COMPUTING

Own or use a Pet or a Vic? Fed up with being ignored by all the traditional monthly magazines? Fed up with listings which are too simple or simply do not work?

You need Commodore computing, the new monthly magazine. It is published by Nick-Hampshire, author of The Pet Revealed, Pet Graphics, A Ubrary Subroutines and the Vir. Revealed. Each issue is packed with advanced advice on how to make the most of your computer, whether you use a Pet or a Vic. and whatever your application. Software, hardware, machine code, games, business use — it is all covered in every issue.

If you want to learn more about your computer, take out a subscription to Commodore Computing. It is the only way to get it, and get it straight.
